Distributions for the 2025-26 season of the Knights of Columbus Liberty Council 3201 Coats for Kids program began last week. This year they are focusing on our smaller school districts, which might not have the resources to assist these students in need. Coats are sized from small up to large for both boys and girls. Recipients were Hull-Daisetta, Liberty and Hardin ISDs.

Since 2009, the Knights have distributed more than 1.8 million winter coats to children in Canada and the United States. Funds are raised through community events to purchase the new coats.
