Dayton Rotarians prepare for 100th anniversary

DAYTON - The Dayton Rotary Club is celebrating its 100th anniversary, and preparations for the event are underway. The small but dedicated club was founded in the spring of 1926 with 20 charter members. Over the past century, membership has varied between 15 and 32 members. The theme for the 100th celebration will be "Country Chic," paying tribute to the majority of the charter members who were ranchers, farmers, and country businesspeople.

The event will feature a catered barbecue brisket and sausage plate with all the traditional accompaniments, provided by a former Rotarian. Beverages including tea, beer, wine, and a signature cocktail called the "Rota-Rita" will be served. Long-time county judge along with his band will be performing that evening. The celebration will take place at the Dayton Community Center on April 10 from 6-8 p.m.

Some former Rotarians and relatives of charter members are expected to attend. Those planning to attend are asked to RSVP as soon as possible due to limited seating. The event will feature tables displaying Rotary memorabilia such as articles, photographs, awards, banners, and more for everyone to enjoy. The club will honor all Paul Harris award recipients, the 100 presidents who have served, international projects, youth activities, and local service initiatives carried out over the years. Artifacts and memorabilia will highlight the tenure of notable Past Presidents, including the first President, Robert Sullivan; the 25th President, Joe D.

Harris III; the 50th President, Gene Shields; and the 75th President, Richard "Ricky" Brown. This year's 100th President, Dr. Luke Chachere, will facilitate the celebration program. A continuous PowerPoint presentation will run throughout the evening, highlighting the impact of the Dayton Rotary Club over the past century. Bios of the 20 charter members will also be featured.

As part of the centennial celebration, the Rotary Club partnered with Precision Lawns (owned by Clayton Bracey) to donate and plant a live oak tree, complemented by a bench and commemorative plaques at the Dayton Community Center.

The Dayton Rotary Club is seeking sponsorships for this exciting event. Available sponsorships are:

 • Legacy Leader Sponsorships for $1,500: reserved table for 10, prominent logo placement and recognition at the event

• Service Above Self Sponsorships for $500: reserved seating for 2 and logo on event materials, along with recognition at the event

• A Century of Service Friend Sponsorships for $100: name listed in printed materials and recognition at the event.
