PACE LAUNCHES $600,000 CAMPAIGN

DAYTON - The PACE Committee (People Against Contaminated Environment) launched its campaign to raise $600,000 on September 30 to fight the placing of two hazardous waste landfills in the county. Money will be used to provide educational programs and hire attorneys and engineers as needed to protect the future of the county.

Banking and lending institutions are showing their interest and support for the PACE campaign by pledging in excess of $90,000 to date. Included are (l-r) Glenn Revere, vice-president, First National Bank of Dayton; Brooks Hiller, president Southeastern Savings Association, Dayton; I.T. "Buddy" May Jr., president, Huffman State Bank; M.W. Ford, president, Dayton State Bank; Gene Touchstone, campaign co-chairman; Joe Ulrich, executive vice-president, Crosby State Bank; Joe Leonard, marketing officer, First Liberty National Bank; and Scott Coon, Hull State Bank.

From Liberty Gazette, Thursday, April 15, 1971 –

Red Cross swimming instructors are a dedicated lot. They give of themselves and their time in the summer months in Dayton and Liberty to impart knowledge of water to hundreds of youngsters, some of whom will no doubt avoid drowning someday as a result.

This was a group at work in Liberty several years ago. L-R: Mrs. Jack Willoughby, Susan Willoughby, Becky Roberts, Linda Carl and Carlene Carl. Mrs. Jodie Roberts headed up the Red Cross program.

Doing business with a neighbor feels good.
